Art Unit: 3714

Claim 84-92 are allowed.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 93-101 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ohara et al (6,052,117).

Ohara et al discloses a system and method for promoting learning in a child comprising a visual graphical environment presenting a child with one or more visual prompts assisting to prompt the child to cognitively react by manipulating one or more graspable objects in an desired fashion [103, 108, 112], an educational appliance support structure [Fig. 7] having a work space capable of receiving input from a child through the detection of the location of one or more graspable objects placed or manipulated on the work space having an inherent visual image [106], and a processor capable of determining whether the location of the one or more graspable objects placed or manipulated on the work space corresponds to a desired response [Fig. 6]. Ohara et al discloses the use of a speaker [Fig. 1 (28)] for prompting or feedback to the child.
